President Wilson Ready to Appoint Tribunal For Settlement of Dispute if Miners Comply With Order of Court----Situation in Hands of Judiciary Until Then, Says White House.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Organized labor will be mobilized to support the striking coal miners.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor decided to issue a call tomorrow for a series of nation-wide mass meetings by labor, the dates to be set later.

"It does not look as though tomorrow is going to be armistice day for labor," said W. D. Mahon, one of the members of the council.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The situation is in the hands of the court. The sovereignty of America must be upheld.

This statement was made at the white house today relative to the coal situation and the declaration of the American Federation of Labor in support of the strike.

The declaration of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor was based upon information that the United Mine Workers will "stand pat," it was learned today. The declaration was made in hopes that it might force the operators to propose a settlement before the court order becomes effective.

President Wilson stands ready to appoint a tribunal for the settlement of the trouble if the miners comply with the order of the courts, it was announced at the white house. Until the order of the courts is complied with the situation will rest with the judiciary, it was stated.

One high official stated today that it appeared like "another Fort Sumter."

The executive council will mark in Washington until definite action is taken by the strike leaders in Indianapolis.

"We will accept whatever consequences may follow,"—these words

HAYS IN INDIANAPOLIS; MAY RECALL MINERS' STRIKE ORDER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 10.—The or prison term if he defies the courts, movements of Frank J. Hayes, president of the United Mine Workers, cast an air of mystery about the conference of union leaders called here today to act upon Federal Judge Anderson's order commanding the recall of the miners' strike call.

Although the union executive was not registered at the down town hotels, the report was current that Hayes is in the city and that he might figure prominently in the conference. Other union officials professed to be ignorant of the movements of their executive who has been in Colorado recovering from a nervous breakdown.

That Hayes, who had no part in the framing of the strike order, could intervene and rescind the strike order thus allowing John L. Lewis, acting president, to retire from his predicament with good grace, is apparent. As the situation stands, Lewis is confronted with the possibility of a jail

Acting President Lewis rapped the session to order at 12:40 and grinning at newspaper men gathered about the entrance, instructed the sergeant-at-arms to close the doors and "keep all outsiders and common eavesdroppers away from the entrance." Lewis would offer no comment on the situation in advance of the meeting.

140 COAL MINERS RETURNED TO WORK IN STEUBENVILLE

STEUBENVILLE, Nov. 10.—The first break in the hitherto solid ranks of the 40,000 union miners in Ohio came today when 15 of the 140 miners at the High Shaft mine of the Steubenville coal and mining company returned to work at the old scale.

Pickets failed to stop the men from entering the mine despite the fact that several clashes occurred and four shots were fired from ambush at the returning miners. Police and deputies on the scene prevented the clash-

102-MILE ROAD PROGRAM HAS BEEN OUTLINED IN THE COUNTY

Adoption of Two-Mill Levy Assures Completion of Work.

SPEND $200,000 YEARLY

Commissioners Prepare to Begin Extensive Highway Improvements.

With the $2,000,000 special road levy sanctioned at last Tuesday's election, at their disposal, Columbiana county commissioners are preparing to proceed at once with the permanent improvement of the 102 miles of county roadway promised in their county road program.

Under the new levy which will probably be placed on the December tax duplicate, $200,000 will be available annually for a period of ten years for road improvement work in the county. At the same time a one-mill levy already provided will take care of the retirement of outstanding road bonds as they come due.

Two county roads of direct local interest, the East Liverpool-Wellsville and the East Liverpool-Columbiana roads are to be reconstructed under the new county road-building program. Temporary patching of holes in the East Liverpool-Wellsville road with asphalt will be started at once pending permanent improvement of the thoroughfare early in the spring. A movement has been launched by Chambers of Commerce Automobile clubs and other civic organizations in this vicinity to have the inter-city road widened before it is permanently improved. It has been suggested that the road be widened and graded this fall and winter and allowed to settle until spring.

The East Liverpool-Columbiana road is to be laid before the state highway commissioners for designation as an inter-county highway. If this is procured, state aid will be solicited for its permanent improvement. A section of the thoroughfare between the Liverpool township line and Calcutta is to be improved with a 16-foot surface of concrete.

Surveyors under direction of County Engineer H. C. Armstrong are now surveying three different roads between Calcutta and Clarkson to determine the best route between the two points.

The Wellsville-Salineville road is to

TWO-MILL LEVY ON DUPLICATE

First Installment of Road Taxes Payable In December.

The two-mill tax levy for county road purposes, sanctioned by Columbiana county electors at last Tuesday's election, will be placed on the tax duplicate this year, County Auditor C. E. Columbus was advised Monday from Columbus.

Addition of the new levy on the tax duplicate will involve nearly 12,000 computations and alterations. Half of the levy is to be collected in December and the other half in June. Persons who have already paid their December taxes must make another payment to meet the two-mill levy.

A levy of .24 of a mill, previously provided for road purposes under belief that the new levy would not be available this year, will be added to school, municipal and township levies, it was decided Monday at the advice of the Secretary of state. This will raise less than $24,000 in the county.

EXPECT COURT FIGHT OVER VOTE IN OHIO

Unofficial Result on Ratification of Federal Prohibition Amendment Indicates Dry Majority of 681.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Nov. 10.—With official returns in from all except two counties, Hamilton and Lake, the drys had a lead of only 182 votes on ratification of the federal prohibition amendment at noon today.

Wets had a net gain of 1,435 votes in the official returns from Cuyahoga, Mahoning Mercer Athens and Alstabilia counties, while the drys had a gain of only 182 in the official returns from Muskingum and four in Coshocton county.

COLUMBUS Nov. 10.—With the unofficial result on ratification of the federal prohibition indicating a dry majority of 681, it appeared today that litigation will be instituted to determine the final result.

Today, the wets are watching the county for the purpose of equipping themselves with possible evidence in the event they bring suit to have the courts canvass the vote cast for and against ratification.

Dry leaders, it is said, are following a similar program in Hamilton county.

While it appears that the wets will force litigation it is claimed here that if the official returns, yet to be received at Secretary of State Smith's office from Hamilton, Mahoning, Muskingum, Mercer and Pike counties result in an apparent wet majority, the drys will ask the courts to canvass the totals.

CONVICTION OF ALLEN DAWSON IN BOOTLEGGING CASE REVERSED

Appellate Tribunal Hands Down Decision Against City.

GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Accused Was Fined $300 at Trial In Police Court.

In a ruling handed down Saturday afternoon at Lisbon the court of appeals reversed the decision of Mayor J. S. Wilson and the common pleas court in the case of Allen Dawson East Liverpool soft drink proprietor convicted last June on a charge of bootlegging.

The court has not yet prepared a written opinion in the case, although it has authorized announcement of its decision. The ordinance, according to the court's decision, is invalid because it does not contain the wording "except for mechanical, pharmaceutical or sacramental purposes."

The decision was given by Judge Metcalf, presiding judge, and concurred in by Associate Judges Pollock and Patterson. City Solicitor R. G. Thompson, who represented the city, announced his intention of carrying the case to the Ohio supreme court.

Here is an outline of the day's program:

ONE STEAMER LOST, FOUR ARE IN DISTRESS

Boston Hears Reports of Several Sea Tragedies.

FIFTY MAY BE DEAD

Schooner Wrecked Off Portland, Maine; Another Believed Lost.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Loss of the United States shipping board steamer Polarland, with the crew of 50 men in lifeboats being sought, four other steamships in distress, a schooner wrecked off Portland, Maine, and the wreckage of another schooner washed ashore at Scituate, Mass., gave evidence today of several sea tragedies.

A wireless message received at the naval radio station here told of the plight of the Polar Land. A call for help was intercepted by the high powered naval wireless station at Otter Cliffs, Me., and was relayed to Boston. A message from U. S. S. Belligham also said the Polar Land was in need of assistance. Her position was given as latitude 44°25' and longitude 75°50' west, a point about 250 miles east of Halifax, N. S. Another wireless said that the steamship Kanawha had gone to the Polar Land's assistance, but that the latter had founders. The rescue ship began a search for the 50 men from the Polar Land who had put off in lifeboats.

The Greek steamship Platea, the navy yard wireless heard, was ashore on Cape Sable. The British steamship Grelstone was reported in a perilous position with her propeller blades gone of Sable Island.

The Telemachus, a Canadian coal vessel, sent out a call for help from the vicinity of Cape Breton, and a fourth steamship off the Nova Scotia coast, which did not give her name, said she too, was in need of assistance. Wreckage of a schooner found floating off Ragged Island, Portland, Me., by fishermen, is believed to be part of a three-master that went to pieces on the ledges during the recent gale. The crew is supposed to have perished. Coast guardmen today were searching for the bodies. The name of the wrecked craft is unknown.

Wreckage of a schooner bearing the number 216,192 was washed ashore at Plum Cove, Schulte, Mass. Mariners thought it was part of the schooner Lochoela from Philadelphia. The wreckage was the top of a vessel's cabin. It had been recently painted. The name, "C. Cadman," was written in pencil on the wood. Word was received today that the Gloucester fishing schooner Natalie Hammond was seriously damaged in the gale and had put into Liverpool, N. H.

THE MINERS' GRIEVANCES.

With the entire nation involved directly or indirectly, all eyes are turned toward Indianapolis today, where decision is expected to be made in regard to the action of the United Mine Workers of America on the court order issued by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, demanding that the officials of the union recall the strike order which resulted in 400,000 bituminous coal miners walking out of the workings on Nov. 1.

Just what move will be made by the strike leaders has not been intimated. However, in the event of failure to obey the court edict, contempt proceedings will undoubtedly be instituted.

It is unfortunate, from the standpoint of the coal miners and of common humanity, that the strike has placed the miners at present in so unfavorable a light. Their action has largely obscured their present grievances, and the hardship which is their usual lot and for which they ought to be properly compensated.

Nobody who is familiar with an ordinary mining settlement and who knows the typical life of miners, can fail to see that they have more than most workmen to make them discontented. They live in dreary homes, amid dreary surroundings, usually in remote places, with few of the comforts and little of the entertainment and varied experience of the city person or the comfortable farmer. Their homes are generally owned by the company they work for. They buy their provisions perforce at company stores. They work underground, in continual danger of fire, asphyxiation or entombment, in quarters so cramped that often they cannot straighten their backs or their cramped limbs. They are subject to the diseases that come from bad air, darkness and dampness. They are comparatively short-lived. Their work is uncertain. In ordinary circumstances their occupation comes about as near to practical slavery as it is possible for any class of men to get in this free country.

Conditions have improved considerably in recent years, in respect to wages, hours, living conditions and safety appliances. Still there is much to be desired. The uncertain tenure of their jobs, with the idleness forced on them for about one-third of the time in an average year, is one of their worst evils.

Regular work with shorter hours would be preferable to the present system, if it were possible. As for wages, it seems clear that they have not been paid enough to meet the new cost of living, which seems to have risen more in mining camps than in most other places.

If the miners had had these facts properly presented to the public, and had made demands, based on them, of such a nature as seemed reasonable, they might have got what they wanted without much difficulty. The public and the government would have championed their cause.

The miners may still regain some of their lost ground. By facing about and giving the nation a square deal, they may get a square deal themselves. But they can hardly expect as much as they would have got in the way of either public approval or material gains if they had not acted so hastily.

PARK LIBRARIES.

A happy thought for branch library work comes from Madrid, Spain. That city has recently inaugurated open-air libraries in most of its public parks. Under the rules any citizen is privileged to choose books from the libraries, and to read them in the parks. Any book so drawn must be returned before the patron leaves the park.

The branch library system in this country has been extensively and successfully developed. The reading public is familiar with libraries in telephone exchanges, in public schools, in stores and factories. The park library, however, seems new and also susceptible of very interesting and useful development.

While it might not be possible or even feasible to have a great variety of books for park patrons to read, a small, good collection of nature books would probably meet enthusiastic approval. Many a park stroller, out primarily for exercise and fresh air, has been struck with the beauty of a strange flower, a bird or an unfamiliar tree. He studies his new find with interest and plans to look it up in a botanical, ornithological or other book of nature study, at his earliest opportunity. If the opportunity does not occur soon he usually forgets about it and never pursues his search. If books which would help him to identify the plant or bird were available in the park he would gladly use them and would be likely to have one in his hand during a ramble.

Books about animals for the park with a zoo, and good books of stories for children would be a great boon to the little folks and to the grown-ups who take them to the park for an all-day outing.

Does it not seem to be worth trying in a local park?

The wet's pulmotor seems to be defective. Each succeeding day lessens their hopes of resuscitating John Barleycorn in Ohio even on the ratification measure. The dry majority has been increasing as rapidly as the official returns reach the secretary of state's office.

It might be interesting to know what sort of an oath of office is administered to the Democratic governor-elect of New Jersey, who was chosen on a platform to make his state "as wet as the Atlantic ocean."

A man who wanted to cut the H. C. of L. bought a goat for $25. Now he is suing the former owner, on the ground that the goat kicked so he couldn't milk her. What does he expect of a goat, anyway?

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. MCINTYRE.

NEW YORK Nov. 10.—Miner's drug store, a famous Bowery landmark, founded in 1804, has closed. It is the last of those romantic places with the red and green globes—the old time prescription clerk who wore suspenders and gold rimmed specs and stopped making a prescription long enough to come out and sell you a cigar.

The passing of Miners signals also the passing of the Bowery type—the square jawed, unshaven, hard faced type in a striped sweater. The Bowery is becoming commercialized, but even so it is still picturesque and many of the old institutions are there.

The Bowery is only 15 blocks long. It extends from Chatham Square, off the hip of Chinatown, to Cooper Union. Fewer people are living on the Bowery each year. Such local names as "Busy Jack's Lunch Room," "Red Donovan's Eatery" and the like are submerged in such titles as "Manufacturers of Rubber Stamps," "Auto Supplies," "Store and Office Fixtures."

And on the corner of the Bowery and Delancey street there is the Puritan Hotel. Still up a few blocks is a florist shop known as the Queen Anne. O yes! The Bowery can show class—even if it does still cling to the mountainous toed shoes.

A young girl cashier, who has worked on the Bowery ten years and who incidentally won a beauty prize in a newspaper contest, declares that in all the years she walked up and down the Bowery she was never insulted. On a single walk up Broadway one evening she was insulted twice.

But a few more words about Miner's drug store. It has seen four generations and has administered to millions from the remorseful twinges experienced by Little Antonio after a too rash admixture of dill pickles and ice cream to the Bowery flop-house habitue who wakes up in the early dawn with a case of what Bowery calls the "shakes" and Broadway "a hang over."

Inside the entrance of the subway at Cathedral Parkway stands a blind vendor of chewing gum and shoestrings, thin, patient of face, motionless. Now and then his lips move and he smiles wistfully.

The other day I watched him while a young man preempted a spot near him for his sale of newspapers. He had freshly printed papers and during the slack sales went over and read the headlines to the blind man. There was a running fire comment as he told of the strikes in the tones of capitalistic esprit de corps.

There is more of this sort of thing in New York than the outside world realizes. One sees it when a blind man starts across the street—two or three jump to help him. That is true of the cripples on street cars and in other places.

The end of the war has brought a new type of dance music. All the new pieces have a plaintive wail—the sobbing dying note. Nobody seems able to account for it but E. F. Bitner, the Feist major domo, declares that the demand is for that sort of song and he points to the popularity of "Klondike Blues," "Star of the East," "Person Moon," "Dreaming of a Sweet Tomorrow" and "Bells of Bagdad," all of which have the plaintive strain.

Since the Actors' strike Ed Wynne, who was the strike leader, has not appeared on the stage. It is a pretty fine compliment to his ability to note that every dramatic critic in town has run articles asking that Wynne be returned to the stage. Wynne himself is silent on the subject. He may have offers and he may not.

GHOST ALARMS ARSENAL GUARD

MILAN, Italy—The great arsenal and powder magazine in the castle of Godogno, near the town of Castelfranca Veneto, is unguarded. The sentries who were posted there have fled in alarm at the repeated nightly visits of a strange spectral form.

EAST OHIO TEACHERS MEET HERE IN 1920

The fiftieth anniversary meeting of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' Association will be held in East Liverpool in 1920 as the result of a vote taken during the closing session of the 1919 meeting in Marietta Saturday.

Two East Liverpool educators were honored with election to responsible posts in the organization. Supt. of Schools F. P. Geiger was named chairman of the executive committee and Miss Olive Kirt, member of the local high school faculty, secretary of the association.

The club will meet in two weeks with Miss Jane Irwin of Ohio avenue, East End.

Bread Crumbs.

Pieces of bread or crusts that have become very dry should be put into the bottom of the oven and left there until quite crisp. They can then be rolled between sheets of paper with a rolling pin or pounded in a basin, or put through a food chopper. Such crumbs, if stored in an airtight jar or bottle, will keep for a long while and will be ready to use at any time. They are handy to use in place of freshly grated crumbs for puddings, stuffings and bread sauce, or for crumbing croquettes and fish.

Crumbs which can be served with game may be prepared by putting slices of stale bread into a cooling oven and leaving them there over night to dry thoroughly; when ready to use, dash the morsel fry in hot lard or clarified butter. Stir well until all are of a golden brown color; then taken them out with a wire spoon and drain on absorbent paper in front of the fire.

Surprise Party.

Mrs. Maria Bruce was honor guest at a surprise party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Kilmer of Lincoln avenue, Friday evening, in honor of Mrs. Bruce's 58th birthday anniversary. Eighteen guests were present and music and games featured the evening. OHIO FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Red Cross Christmas Seals

Ohio's quota of Red Cross Christmas seals to be sold this year is $50,000—$60,000—the national goal is $650,000.

In many places throughout Ohio the sale of these Red Cross seals is conducted under the auspices of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The money going to these local federations as their share in the proceeds is expended toward the support of a public health nurse.

The remainder, of course, goes to the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. How could this money be more wisely distributed?

The public health nurse is truly the modern municipal angel of mercy.

Mrs. Laura Mackall and two children of Washingtonville, Ohio, have concluded a week's visit with Mrs. Lottie Smith of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton Smith of Youngstown were week-end guests of with good organization in every local community in Ohio.

As a result of the enactment of the Hughes act which recognizes the official local health system of the state, plans are under consideration for the reorganization of the voluntary local anti-tuberculosis and public health leagues of the state. The general idea is to make the voluntary local health work parallel with that of the official local health system throughout the state.

Federated Club Book Lists

For the literature department work of federated clubs lists of books for reference and reading have been carefully compiled. Recently librarians have become interested in these lists. We are assured that librarians generally will now be pleased to arrange to buy the books named in these lists, which may be secured from Mrs. A. B. Pyke, literature chairman of the Ohio Federation, No. 1185 Andrews avenue, Cleveland.

A play especially for club production, "Standish of Standish," and a pageant of early days in Plymouth can also be secured from Mrs. Pyke. As 1920 is the centenary of the landing of the Pilgrim fathers, there is need to revalue our inheritance. Clubs should utilize this period for study and celebration.

That Willard Punch

Federated club women at Willard are doing such a splendid work that it will be an incentive everywhere to tell something about it. In the first place, Mrs. R. E. Crall, corresponding secretary of the "Federated Women in Willard." We have outgrown our name of Chicago Junction and have taken a more dignified name, not honoring the pugilist, but rather the former president of the B. & O. railroad."

There are 300 federated club women in Willard. They hired a teacher and paid all expenses for a kindergarten last summer. They gave $100 each year to the school children in garden contests. They are now supporting two French orphans. An extension school was secured by them through the state department of agriculture.

They collected and shipped bushels of seeds to help plant devastated France.

The health committee of the Willard federation secured $1,150, besides monthly pledges, for a public nurse for their little city. The federation is planning to open a public library. A room has already been secured. The federated club women have $600 in the library fund. A series of teas to promote sociability and to secure additional funds for the library has been planned for this winter. Willard club women say they owe their success to their democratic spirit; that their rich are poor and their poor are rich, and all live in harmony together. Is there any other town in Ohio that can beat Willard?

Pennsylvania Man Now Verifies Testimony Formerly Given For Plant Juice.

Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, feels to the nerve tendrils vigor and vitality, and they in turn feed the different functional organs this same strength.

JOHN F. MORGANTHALER.

Hundreds have testified to this truth. One of the latest signed statements received from local people is that of Mr. John Morganthalier, a well known and popular employee of the Pennsylvania Ry. Co., of No. 1513 Allegheny Avenue, N. S., Pittsburgh, who verifies a former statement made by him over six months ago, as follows:

"About six months ago I was cured of a bad case of stomach trouble by Plant Juice and gave a signed statement to that effect, after I had tried all kinds of different medicines with only temporary relief. I was much surprised at that time when I found that Plant Juice gave me a permanent cure and told all my friends what it had done for me. I cannot say too much in praise of this medicine and will be only too glad to tell others of my experience with it. Before taking Plant Juice I was completely run down and not able to do anything; had no ambition or energy whatever. Plant Juice put new life into me and completely cured me of Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholated Arcine and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

"I feel I owe you people a world of gratitude for the benefit I have received in using your wonderful remedy—Bio-feren Tablets, which have completely restored me to normal conditions," says Joseph E. Webb of Muncie, Indiana.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you.

Governor's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

Gov. John J. Cornwell has just issued his annual Thanksgiving day proclamation declaring Thursday, Nov. 27, a legal holiday in this state.

"Surely the American people, especially of those in West Virginia," the governor said, "have much to be thankful for. One year has elapsed since the cessation of fighting in the world war. Time has begun to heal the wounds of body and soul. The country has been blessed with crops in abundance, and the prosperity of the future now depends upon our efforts."

"So pause and give sincere thanks to God for those blessings, and His goodness will enable us to eliminate some of the selfishness and wilfulness the two things that constitute barriers to future domestic peace, prosperity and happiness."

WOODLAND SINGERS TO APPEAR HERE

The Woodland Singers, a troupe of four men, will visit Newell on Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, in the second number of the lyceum course being offered by Clark Lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. The affair will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

There is not another company on the road that has a program similar to that of the Woodland Singers, according to word which has been received by the local committee. The company does not use a printed program nor do they announce their numbers except as they come in the dialogue between the members of the company. The whole entertainment from start to finish is in the form of a sketch. The music was selected first and the speaking lines were written to suit the music. One of the men is a reader and three of them play the piano. All are pleasing singers. In the latter part of their program, the singers appear in elaborate gypsy costumes.

To Set Date for Meeting.

A date set for a Parent-Teachers association meeting will be set at a conference between the teachers and Superintendent of Schools Osborne, to be held following the dismissal of school Monday afternoon. CARS TIED UP
TOLEDO WALKS

TOLEDO, Nov. 10.—Today Toledo felt the full force of withdrawal of street railway transportation facilities.

Thousands going to work this morning were forced to walk or make use of some form of motor transportation hastily pressed into service.

Over Sunday the full seriousness of the situation was not apparent but with resumption of business today the crippled condition of transportation became an important factor.

The withdrawal of all street cars from the city at midnight Saturday night came as a culmination of a 12-year franchise fight and on the heels of official notification by the city election board to officials of the Toledo Railways and Light company that the voters of the city had approved the outer ordinance passed some time ago by city council.

Mayor Cornell Schreiber assumed charge of the unprecedented situation and has appointed E. A. Mallory com-misioner of transportation. He assumed full charge of motor transportation in the city this morning, establishing zones of operation and a system of uniform charges.

Word came to city officials today from Henry L. Doherty, president of

would be resumed when "the people

HERE'S RECORD OF WORK DONE BY RED CROSS

Resume of Activities of Home Service Section
Here.

REPORT FOR THE YEAR

Rendered Service to 1,869

Persons; Expended

$7,177.31.

That the Home Service-Civilian Relief is performing a wonderful work in East Liverpool is shown in the report for the year beginning October 1, 1918 made public Friday by J. S. Hilbert, chairman of the joint organization.

Service was rendered a total of 1,869 persons during the year by the mercy organization. Of this number assistance was given 820 service men, over 50 percent of the city's quota of men in all branches of the service during the war.

During the Spanish influenza epidemic last year, twenty-five families made destitute by the ravages of the dread plague were given medical or hospital care or were provided with medicines, food and nurses free of charge. Eighty-five other families paid for nursing service furnished by bureaus during the epidemic.

Eleven nurses were employed either wholly or part time during the period of the epidemic, while the Home Service office was used as a clearing house for a total of 30 nurses who worked to check the spread of the disease.

Expenditures for the year reached the high mark of $7,177.31. The peace-time program of the organization calls for the extension of its activities to embrace the families of civilians as well as ex-service men. The present active staff of the organization includes an executive secretary, a stenographer and a Red Cross nurse. Beginning January 1, 1920 a case worker will be added to the staff of the organization. She is now taking a special course in that particular line of work at Ohio State University.

Funds for carrying on the work of the Home Service-Civilian Relief are derived from various sources. One-half of the adult membership fees secured during the third Red Cross Roll Call drive now in progress here will be turned over to the joint mercy organization. Forty per cent of the junior Red Cross funds are retained for use here and sixty per cent sent to the national offices of the American Red Cross.

The Red Cross nurse in the employ of the Home Service-Civilian Relief is available for service at all times to any one requiring her assistance. Families able to pay for assistance will be required to do so, although she will render assistance to the needy free of charge.

AT the Theatres

Fashions which dim the most gorgeous of Easter pageants combine with furious fun and frolic to make Joan Cort's great musical comedy success "Flo-Flo," which comes to the Ceramic theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 19, one of the most sensational hits which ever caught the fancy of Broadway theatre patrons. "Flo-Flo" had a run of one solid year at the Cort theatre, New York. Its "Perfect 36" chorus is arrayed in a display of costly evening wraps, frills, toilles and lingerie which dazzle the eye. The chorus supplements a well chosen cast which takes the roles of the beautiful corset model, the imitation count, the match-making mother, the American heiress, the boy from Oshkosh, the proprietors of the Bride shop, and the comedy's Watson and Sherlock Holmes. Included in the cast are: Hazel Alger, Ben Hastings, Carl George, Augustus Buell, Eddie Lloyd, Elf Lorraine, Elsa Thomas, George Pierce, Frank Masters and other musical comedy favorites and the "Perfect Thirty-Six" chorus. The delights of Silvio Heim's score are emphasized by an augmented orchestra.

419 EGGS FROM 20 HENS IN 30 DAYS

Mr. Dougherty Got This Result in October. Plan is Easily Tried.

I tried Don Sung and the results were far past any expectations. I got 419 eggs in 30 days from 20 hens while moulting. I think this is wonderful, as they hardly laid at all before while moulting.—Frank Dougherty, 5940 E. 11th St., Indianapolis.

Mr. Dougherty bought $1 worth of Don Sung tablets in October and wrote the above letter in November. Figure his profit on 35 dozen eggs from hens that formerly laid little or nothing.

This may sound too good to be true, but it costs nothing to find out. We'll make you the same offer we made him.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily digested and improves the hen's health, makes her more active in laying, feather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter what the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry for package deal or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

"THE HOUSE WITHOUT CHILDREN" AT CERAMIC

Unusual is the word that applies to "The House Without Children," opening at the Ceramic today. Not only is the film the first to have scenes played by real actors in person, but the most interesting element in connection with its presentation is the introduction of the much discussed dissolving screen.

The principal baritone is James Stevens who interprets "Little John." Mr. Stevens sang principal roles with the Century and Aborn companies in New York before Mr. Dunbar prevailed on him to join his forces, and the manager accredits him as being one of the really great American operatic singers. Things equally commendable can be said of the other eight principal singers of the cast, as well as the chorus and orchestra.

"SOCIAL AMBITION" IS FILM AT DIAMOND

More than ever the screen drama is taking the place of the stage problem play. On the stage we see the most trivial comedies; on the screen we see the great issues of life depicted with convincing power. This is especially true of "Social Ambition," the Seelzart play distributed by Goldwyn, which comes to the Diamond theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Vincent Manton, in his play, "Social Ambition," finds himself in the midst of a heart-breaking domestic situation. His wife, whom he has adored, scorns him when his fortune is swept away through speculation, largely brought on by her social ambitions. Having no faith in his ability to recoup, she demands a divorce, and the disillusioned husband allows her to obtain one, settling on her the remnant of his once great fortune. Then he plunges into dissipation, sinking lower and lower until he is hardly more than a derelict, without friends or ties of any kind.

He drifts to Alaska and into the dance hall of a mining town. There he arouses the compassion of Rose, foster daughter of the proprietor, as sweet and appealing as she is immaculate. But he resents her gentle admonitions not to drink and insults her. Manton is savagely attacked by his trumped up charge.

crowd, all of whom adore the girl, and he is left for dead. She nurses him back to strength, however, and helps him to rehabilitate himself. For this she is ostracized by every one. When Manton returns east to incorporate the mine he has discovered, Rose remains in Alaska, prey to the fear that he will never return. Even though his wife, the girl is spurned for her devotion to the man. What occurs in New York when Manton meets his former wife and she tries to win him back leads up to an absorbing dramatic climax in which Rhea Mitchell as Rose and Howard Hickman as Manton acquit themselves with credit.

By a five to one vote, Raymond Hall was elected mayor of Empire over William Sterling in last Tuesday's election, according to official returns announced Monday.

There her fortunes change for the better. A novelist, seeking a "type" for the heroine of his new novel, takes her home and studies her. Their friendship, which is at first casual interest on his part, although it is abject devotion on hers, ripens into a pretty romance, which is said to be unfolded with many surprising twists and captivating incidents.

NAZIMOVA IN "THE BRAT" AT STRAND

The supreme Nazimova in her latest production, "The Brat," has been booked as the attraction at the Strand theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the management promises a rare treat to its patrons.

The story has to do with the vicissitudes and final triumph of "the brat," a nameless waif on the turbulent sea of life in a big city. She loses her "job" in the chorus because she is too shabby in "make a front." Dejected and shelterless, she leaves the theatre, only to be insulted by a masher and then haled to the night court on

NAB ELEVEN IN SUNDAY RAID

On a charge of conducting a place where gambling was permitted, G. H. Brown of Chester was held for investigation by the Hancock county grand jury under $200 bond, when arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. G. Allison Sunday. Brown and ten other men were arrested shortly after midnight Sunday when Sheriff Armour S. Cooper, Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Ingram and Chief of Police John R. Dolby quietly raided a plumbing shop, located in Carolina avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, in which the alleged game was in progress.

Brown waived a preliminary hearing.

The ten men who were charged as being players, were assessed fines of $5 each and were released from custody.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO MEET HERE THURSDAY

The first meeting of the Chester Parent-Teachers' association will be held in the high school rooms of the Central school building on Thursday evening, Nov. 20. This announcement has just been made by Mrs. J. A. Stephenson, vice president of the Chester organization.

Because of the influenza epidemic, which caused a suspension of the schools last fall, no meetings of the organization were held during the last term of school, so the meeting this month is the first session of the teachers and parents for practically two years.

Several important matters will come up for consideration at this time, chief among them being the reorganization of the association. The proposed bond issue for a new high school building to be submitted to the voters at an early date will also be discussed. The meeting will also be in the form of a reception to the new teachers in the Chester schools.

COMMUNION SERVICE AT FIRST U. P. CHURCH

Dr. R. A. Hutchinson of Pittsburgh, secretary of the Home Missionary Board of the United Presbyterian churches, was in charge of the communion service at the First United Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Rev. Mr. Reynolds recently tendered his resignation as pastor of the local church. He will return to Chester this week. He will retain charge of the local church, however, until the first of the new year.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED HERE

Commemorating the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice, which ended hostilities in the great world war, Chester schools will carry out special programs, Tuesday morning.

The day this year will not be a legal holiday in West Virginia, as Governor Cronwell failed to issue a proclamation to that effect.

Although the public schools of East Liverpool and other nearby cities have announced a half holiday, Tuesday, there will be morning and afternoon sessions in the Chester public schools.

Mid-Week Prayer Service.
"The Sabbath School Lesson," will be the subject for the regular mid-week prayer service at the First United Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. Mrs. R. L. Fouts has been named leader for the meeting.

FAMILY ALTAR LEAGUE DRIVE

A house-to-house canvass of every United Presbyterian family in Chester will be conducted here during the next few days as this city's part in the New World Movement to enroll 45,000 families in the Family Altar League, an organization the purpose of which is to revitalize religion in the home.

Special sermons will be preached by the pastors of all congregations, dealing with the movement and in every congregation a committee of six will conduct the campaign for members of the altar league. The committee to handle the work in the local church has not been named. A survey is being made of the church membership to learn in how many homes religious services are being held.

Business men are being enlisted in the campaign to prove by personal example that home services are feasible in the modern home. A symposium by ten of the leading business men in the church membership is being distributed as an argument that successful merchants, bankers and financiers will find time for prayer and reading of the Bible in their home.

The campaign is being directed by Dr. J. Knox Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, who has established offices in Pittsburgh, Pa., as secretary of the department of spiritual life of the New World Movement.

SEVENTEEN MEMBERS FOR LOCAL CHURCH

Seventeen new members were added to the roll at the Chester Free Methodist church Sunday as a result of the revival meetings which have been in progress for the last couple of weeks.

Rev. A. D. Zahmier, general conference evangelist of Greenville, Ill., who has been in charge of the meetings for the last two weeks, left Monday morning for Jamestown, N. Y., where he will assist in a revival campaign. From Jamestown he is booked for a series of meetings at Muncie, Ind.

Rev. C. F. Miller of Pittsburgh arrived here Monday to aid in the services in the local church this week. The church was filled almost to capacity at the Sunday night's service and unusually good results are being obtained.

Rev. E. J. Atkinson, pastor of the church, announced Monday that the revivals would continue throughout this week, services every evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The meetings are to continue for an indefinite period.

New Cumberland Books Chautauqua.

New Cumberland has booked a chautauqua again for next summer. It has been announced.

The county seat town has had a chautauqua entertainment each summer for the last several years, the program having been furnished by the Lincoln Chautauqua company, which recently left the business. The contracts of the Lincoln company were purchased by the Redpath Chautauqua concern, which will offer the program there this next summer.

Don't refuse that invitation because of a poor complexion

NO RELIEF IN COAL SHORTAGE

With the strike of bituminous coal miners ten days old Monday, the coal situation in Chester remained unchanged. Not a lump of coal can be secured, unless deliveries are obtained from the wagon mines operated back of the city.

The local tin mill, the two local potteries, and the local rubber works, Chester's leading industries, continue to operate in spite of the coal strike. Operations at the tin mill will not be affected before the first of the year, it has been announced, while the potteries will be able to run as long as they can use gas. WILL CONTINUE MERCY DRIVE

Although the nation-wide Red Cross campaign is scheduled to close Tuesday, the drive in Chester will not be completed before the end of the present week, it was announced here Monday morning.

But little progress was made by the four district solicitors in their campaign for members last week and for that reason it will be necessary to continue the work throughout the present week. A systematic house-to-house canvass is being made of the entire city by the women, every man and woman being asked to give a dollar, which entitles them to a membership in the Red Cross for one year.

Reports from all parts of the country show unusually good results being obtained by the workers wherever they make their appeal. Newell is practically completed with its campaign, while Weirton will finish this week. New Cumberland will have reached its goal within a day or two, it was announced Monday morning.

The officials of the Weirton Steel company, employing approximately 3,500 men, have promised to make their plant "100 per cent Red Cross." A committee of the steel workers has been appointed by the management to solicit subscriptions and the money will be collected at the office next Saturday when the men are paid off. Every worker in the plant will be asked to give a dollar for the mercy cause.

Prof. W. D. Johnson, superintendent of the Weirton schools, is head of the campaign in Weirton, although the mill officials are handling the work separately in their plant.

JAMES W. TORRENCE of Kendall, Pa., was trading in Chester and East Liverpool Monday.

SPECIAL CONCERT RATE FOR TEACHERS, STUDENTS

Following a long established custom in the cities where orchestral concerts are regular events of the season, a special rate will be made for public school children and students for the Russian Symphony Orchestra concert, at the Ceramic Theater on Saturday night. Tickets at half rate will be allowed the teachers and students in any part of the house, and the students will make their request known to their teacher.

The Russian Symphony Orchestra is world-famed, and Conductor Altschuler has announced an interesting and varied program.

Great interest is also manifest in the appearance of Helen Thomas as soprano soloist. Miss Thomas is a graduate of the public schools in this city, and her early musical education was also gained here. She later attended the New England Conservatory of Music, where she studied both voice and piano. During the past two seasons she studied in New York. At present she is a church choir soloist in Pittsburg, having been chosen last spring from over fifty applicants. For her appearance on Saturday night with the Russian Symphony Orchestra she will sing the "Bird Song" aria from Leoncavallo's opera "Pagliacci."

VETS ON EDGE FOR GAME WITH SEBRING TIGERS

HAVE NOT YET BEEN DEFEATED

BIGGEST CROWD OF SEASON EXPECTED OUT TO WATCH LOCALS TRY TO TURN THE TABLES ON THEIR HUSKY RIVALS.

The Sebring Tigers, winners of at least seven gridiron contests and held to ties on two occasions are going to run into the stiffest bunch of opposition of the season Tuesday afternoon, Armistice Day, at West End Park. This is the declaration of John Coleman, Veteran of Foreign Wars football team's coach, who has been assiduously grooming his charges for the reception of the Mahoning countians.

The Veterans in their second engagement of the season, bucked the Tigers at Sebring over a month ago and came home scarred up. The score that game was 19-0. And the Jungaleers are coming to East Liverpool with practically the same bunch of claws that slashed the Vets not so long ago. The Vets are more anxious to win this game than probably any other struggle on the season's card, excepting, possibly, the Wellsville game.

And the Jungaleers are coming to East Liverpool with practically the same bunch of claws that slashed the Vets not so long ago. The Vets are more anxious to win this game than probably any other struggle on the season's card, excepting, possibly, the Wellsville game.

The Tigers have victories over Leetonia Canton Roanakers, Independents of Canton, Columbiana, the Vets, tied with the Goat Hills of Alliance and last week played a 0-0 game with Mahoning. This year's Tigers are considered one of the mightiest football machines in Mahoning county.

In Shreckington, Munsell Arnold and Hogue, the Tigers have a consistently scoring backfield. All four men are only average in weight but are fast and well versed in the game. Their ability at ground gaining is due in great measure to the Tiger line. Approximately 180 pounds was the average Tiger line when the Vets clashed with them. Applegate, from Lisbon,

The Tigers have not been scored on this season and expect to further clinch their claims on the tri-county title by beating the Vets here Tuesday afternoon.

STUBBERS BLANK LOCALS, 13-0

The same old story, with different figures, that's all—and you have the main plot of the East Liverpool Steubenville football game here last Saturday afternoon. East Liverpool was licked again, this time 13-0.

Walloped again and by a team that was not one whit better than the blue and white, when everything was taken into consideration. The Steubenville boys had the punch, the locals didn't—that's about all there was to it.

East Liverpool was able to batter down the Steubenville forward defenses almost at will and in turn crumbled before the attack of the Jefferson countians. Several opportunities were presented to the Coleman crew, but they lacked the final fling which would have thrown them across the line. At least once in the first half and once in the second they carried the pigskin to within striking distance of the enemy's goal line and then suddenly found themselves unable to go an inch farther.

M'GRAW MAY QUIT NEW YORK GIANTS

By SAM CRANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants, is entering into so many new business ventures that his friends do not expect to see him remain the leader of the New York Nationals more than a few years. When McGraw does retire as manager on the field the chances are that he can sit back in his private box at the Polo Grounds and reminisce with supreme satisfaction.

There is not a chance that McGraw will entirely sever connection with baseball as long as he lives. He loves the game too well for that. It has been his life-long ambition to own the Giants. As he is now part owner of the club he has reached the goal of his desire, and will be a pleased man when he can hand over the management of the team to a worthy successor. He wants to escape the many worries and exactions of the position of manager.

McGraw has fought his way to the front of the national game. His duties in attaining the prominence have been strenuous as well as arduous. He has made many enemies by his characteristic aggressiveness, but he has also made thousands of friends, who know and know his sterling qualities and who also know that he has been and is in many ways the most misunderstood man in baseball. That his fighting spirit caused him to be strongly disliked was but natural. It will be found that the great majority of those people who are antagonistic to him and his methods on the field became his enemies through fear of his ability as manager.

It is the people who are the most rabid in showing their antagonism toward McGraw that attend most regularly the games of his team the Giants play. They dislike him and deride him, still there are his most steady

Mills and Benson from Columbiana, are the three main towers of strength in the Tiger forward line. Benson will go well over 200 pounds while the other two will make about 19. In spite of their tremendous weight the Vets stopped all line plugging in the first meeting of the two teams. The Vet forward are a good deal lighter but are strong on backbone and surprised the Sebringites right off the reel by shattering the renowned Tiger line tactics.

One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected out to see the Vets go against their rivals. A victory will place the East Liverpool eleven among the top notchers in independent circles in eastern Ohio, and Coleman and his assistants are doing everything in their power to get the overseas men in shape for the fray.

WHAT DID THE IVORY HUNTERS FIND?

By N. E. BROWN.

The big league scouts have practically finished their work for the season after one of the busiest hunting roundsups in the game's history. This story isn't about the second Ty Cobb and Hod Ellers they found—for the dope on these birds is locked in the office safes. But it's to call attention to the fact that these intrepid searchers in the all and uncut have played their part in the game with the usual lack of applause and publicity.

The few teams still playing out on the Pacific coast are the only ones to be looked over. The minor league teams in general are done for the year. Many of the minor leagues—four-fifths of the ones in existence before the war—suspended during the conflict and started up again last season for the first time. Military service called most of the young players in these clubs and as a result the personnel of the teams was changed radically. Men whom the scouts had been watching for a couple of seasons dropped out of sight completely during the war and had to be chased up again. Other men who never had played professional ball before the war made names for themselves on service teams and were grabbed up by the bush league clubs. The big league clubs were aware that they dare not overlook any of the tips on these fellows. As a result of these conditions the scouts rode nights and sleuthed days and bought their new supplies of green whiskers and makeup from the news butchers on the trains—in parts of the country where trains ran.

Lee Fohl, resigned manager of the Indians, joined the crew of American league scouts after he turned over the managerial reins to Tris Speaker. Other old-time ball players scouring the minors for the A. L. clubs included Hugh Duffy and Ed Holly for the Red Sox, Ira Thomas for the Athletics, and Ed Walsh for the White Sox. The National league was represented by a big detail.

Delicate Children

There is nothing like Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic, to build up frail, sickly children.

Her Doctor Advised Vinol
Aiken, S. C.—"My little girl five years of age had been delicate all her life. Last January pneumonia left her in a very weak, run-down condition with no appetite, and she could not keep still a minute, not even in her sleep. We were very much worried about her, and our druggist, who is a doctor, said Vinol was the best tonic he knew for one in her condition. We tried it and you ought to see how she has improved by its use! I cannot say too much for Vinol."—Mrs. LEONARD W. GEORGE.

We ask all parents of weak, sickly, delicate children in this vicinity to try Vinol with the understanding that we will return your money if it fails to benefit your little ones. Children love to take it.

WHO'S WHO IN DAY'S NEWS

SENATOR MCKELLAR.

Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee has a new scheme to dispose of reds, anarchists and other people who try to tear down the government of the United States. He has introduced a bill to punish conspiracy against organized government.

According to the terms of this measure, any citizen who preaches the overthrow of the government, or allies himself with any organization that preaches such a doctrine, or who ever attends meetings at which such projects are advocated or who gives any aid or encouragement to such efforts is deemed guilty of "adhering to the enemies of the United States."

For each offense he may be fined $5,000 or sent to prison for ten years. Then comes an alternative punishment.

In the discretion of the judge before whom the offender is convicted, he may be deported permanently to an island in the Philippines which may be set aside by the government for that purpose.

Senator McKellar has been setting in the national legislature since November, 1911, when he was elected to fill the unexpired term of General

George W. Gordon in the lower house.

Four years later he was nominated by Tennessee Democrats for U. S.

senator and elected. His present term expires in 1923.

Senator McKellar was born in Dallas county, Alabama. After securing three degrees at the University of Alabama he moved to Memphis, Tenn., and went into politics.
